	IOM shall conduct the evaluation solely on the basis of the submitted technical and financial proposals.
	Evaluation of proposals shall be undertaken in the following steps:

	b) Evaluation of minimum eligibility and qualification (if pre-qualification is not done)
	c) Evaluation of technical proposals
	d) Evaluation of financial proposals.
34. Preliminary examination	IOM shall examine the proposals to determine whether they are complete with respect to minimum documentary requirements, whether the documents have been properly signed, and whether the proposals are generally in order, among other indicators that may be used at this stage. When necessary, and if stated in the Data Sheet, IOM may invite technically responsive proposers for a presentation related to their technical proposals. The conditions for the presentation shall be provided in the proposal document where required.

	In the second stage, only the financial proposals of those proposers who achieve the minimum technical score will be opened for evaluation.
	The evaluation method that applies for this RFP shall be as indicated in Section 3: Data Sheet, which may be either of two (2) possible methods, as follows: (a) the lowest priced method which selects the lowest evaluated financial proposal of the technically responsive Proposers; or (b) the combined scoring method which will be based on a combination of the technical and financial score.
	When the Data Sheet specifies a combined scoring method , the formula for the rating of the proposals will be as follows:
	Rating the Technical Proposal (TP):
	TP Rating = (Total Score Obtained by the Offer / Max. Obtainable Score for TP) x 100
	Rating the Financial Proposal (FP):
	FP Rating = (Lowest Priced Offer / Price of the Offer Being Reviewed) x 100
	Total Combined Score:
	Combined Score = (TP Rating) x (Weight of TP, e.g. 70%) + (FP Rating) x (Weight of FP, e.g., 30%)
37. Post-qualification	IOM reserves the right to undertake a post-qualification assessment, aimed at determining, to its satisfaction, the validity of the information provided by the proposer. Such exercise shall be fully documented and may include, but need not be limited to, all or any combination of the following:

	f) Other means that IOM may deem appropriate, at any stage within the selection process, prior to awarding the contract.
38. Clarification of proposals	IOM may request clarification or further information in writing from the proposers at any time during the evaluation process. The proposers' responses shall not contain any changes regarding the substance or price of the proposal, except to confirm the correction of arithmetic errors discovered by IOM in the evaluation of the proposals, in accordance with Instructions to Proposers Article 23 (Errors or omissions).

		IOM may use such information in interpreting and evaluating the relevant proposal but is under no obligation to take it into account.
		Any unsolicited clarification submitted by a proposer in respect to its proposal which is not a response to a request by IOM, shall not be considered during the review and evaluation of the proposals.
39.	Responsiveness of proposal	IOM's determination of a proposal's responsiveness is to be based on the contents of the proposal itself. A substantially responsive proposal is one that conforms to all the terms, conditions, TOR and other requirements of the RFP without material deviation, reservation, or omission. A material deviation, reservation, or omission is one that:
		a) affects in any substantial way the scope, quality, or performance of the services specified in the contract; or
		b) limits in any substantial way, inconsistent with the solicitation documents, IOM's rights or the proposer's obligations under the contract; or
		c) if rectified would unfairly affect the competitive position of other proposers presenting substantially responsive proposals.
		If a proposal is not substantially responsive, it shall be rejected by IOM. and may not subsequently be made responsive by the proposer by correction of the material deviation, reservation, or omission.
40.	Nonconformities, reparable errors and omission	Provided that a proposal is substantially responsive, IOM may waive any non-conformities or omissions in the proposal that, in the opinion of IOM., do not constitute a material deviation. These are a matter of form and not of substance and can be corrected or waived without being prejudicial to other proposers.
		Provided that a proposal is substantially responsive IOM may request the proposer to submit the necessary information or documentation, within a reasonable period, to rectify nonmaterial nonconformities or omissions in the proposal related to documentation requirements. Such omission shall not be related to any aspect of the price of the proposal. Failure of the proposer to comply with the request may result in the rejection of its proposal.
		For financial proposals that have been opened, IOM shall check and correct arithmetical errors as follows:
		 a) if there is a discrepancy between the unit price and the line item total that is obtained by multiplying the unit price by the quantity, the unit price shall prevail and the line item total shall be corrected, unless in the opinion of IOM there is an obvious misplacement of the decimal point in the unit price; in which case, the line item total as quoted shall govern and the unit price shall be corrected;
		b) if there is an error in a total corresponding to the addition or subtraction of subtotals, the subtotals shall prevail, and the total shall be corrected; and
		c) if there is a discrepancy between words and figures, the amount in words shall prevail, unless the amount expressed in words is related to an arithmetic error, in which case the amount in figures shall prevail.
		If the proposer does not accept the correction of errors, its proposal shall be rejected and its proposal security may be forfeited.
41.	Right to accept any proposal and to reject any or all proposals

AWARD OF CONTRACT

45. Debriefing	In the event that a proposer is unsuccessful, the proposer may request a debriefing from IOM. The purpose of the debriefing is to discuss the strengths and weaknesses of the proposer's submission, in order to assist the proposer in improving its future proposals for IOM procurement opportunities. The content of other proposals and how they compare to the proposer's submission shall not be discussed.
46. Performance security	The successful Proposer, if so specified in Section 3: Data Sheet shall furnish a Performance Security in the amount and form specified therein, within the specified number of days after receipt of the Contract from IOM. Banks issuing performance securities must be acceptable to the IOM comptroller, i.e. banks certified by the central bank of the country to operate as a commercial bank. IOM shall promptly discharge the proposal securities of the unsuccessful proposers pursuant to Article 17 (Proposal security).
	Failure of the successful proposer to submit the above-mentioned Performance Security or sign the Contract shall constitute sufficient grounds for the annulment of the award and forfeiture of the proposed security. In that event IOM may award the contract to the next lowest ranked proposer.

1. About the International Organization for Migration (IOM)

The International Organization for Migration (IOM), the United Nations Migration Agency, is a dynamic and growing inter-governmental organization that was established in 1951. It has a membership of 174 states and is active in over 440 field locations worldwide. IOM is committed to the safe, humane and orderly migration because humane and orderly migration benefits migrants and society. To promote safe humane and orderly migration, IOM works with government, civil society and other partners to promote international cooperation to address operational challenges of migration and mobility. IOM assists in the search for practical solutions to migration problems and the provision of humanitarian assistance to migrants in need, including refugees and internally displaced people. IOM addresses the migratory phenomenon from an integral and holistic perspective, including links to development, to maximize its benefits and minimize its negative effects.

IOM works in three broad areas: Operations and emergencies, Migration management and International Cooperation and Partnerships. Under the migration management IOM works with government and partners to develop policies and strategies that promote mainstreaming of migration in different sectors such as the Health under the Migration and Health Division (MHD). The MHD delivers and promotes comprehensive, preventive, and curative health programmes which are beneficial, accessible, and equitable for migrants and mobile populations. IOM's MHD, in close collaboration with partners, contributes towards the physical, mental, and social well-being of migrants, enabling them and host communities to achieve social and economic development.

Migration is now a global phenomenon with close to 272 million international migrants (UNDESA, 2019) and an estimated 740 million internal migrants on the move (IOM, 2015), and must be recognized as a social determinant of health; mobility not only impacts upon an individual's physical vulnerability, but also on mental and social well-being. Migrants and mobile populations face many obstacles in accessing essential health care services due to several factors including irregular immigration status, language barriers, a lack of migrant-inclusive health policies and inaccessibility of services. Such disparities impact the well-being of migrants and host communities and undermine the realization of global health goals, such as preventing, treating, and eliminating HIV, tuberculosis, malaria and human influenza.

2. IOM's Migration Health Programming in Southern Africa

One of the Migration and Health interventions implemented by the IOM in the Southern Africa Region is the Sexual and Reproductive health and rights (SRHR), and HIV Knows No Borders project (KNB Project). In 2016, IOM and Save the Children Netherlands (SC) received a six-year funding from the Dutch government to implement the first phase of the project from 2016 to 2020. This was followed by a second funding to implement the second phase of the project entitled: the "SRHR-HIV Knows No Borders Programme (KNB II)". Below is an overview of the KNB II project:

Overview of the KNB Project

The project is implemented by IOM (as the lead agency) and Save the Children South Africa (SCSA). In Nkomazi where the project is implemented, IOM works with an implementing partner who has presence in sub-district.

To meet the objectives of the KNB project, various strategies are utilized which, as already mentioned include: community level health promotion and awareness campaigns, community dialogues, use of radio, capacity building workshops and strengthening advocacy efforts and multi-sectoral collaboration. IOM works with different stakeholders in government, civil society as well as the community where the project is implemented.

3. Purpose and scope of work

The right to health is a universal right enshrined in South Africa's bill of rights in the constitution. To realise this right, the SRHR project bridges the information gap to ensure that those reached through the project have correct SRH information, know their rights and responsibilities and where to access health and non-health services. This we do in migration impacted communities in accordance to IOM's mandate. To prompt positive action, information developed and disseminated needs to be clear, concise and packaged in a way that reaches those impacted by migration.

To this end, IOM seeks to engage a service provider that has the expertise and experience of developing heartfelt thought-provoking multi-media communication campaigns. The service provider should be able to monitor the reach and impact of messages disseminated. The communication campaign will have multiple audiences such as policy makers/influencers, service providers and service users. Examples of the audiences include government, communities impacted by migration and specifically sex workers, migrants and young vulnerable people in Nkomazi and Bushbuckridge where the project is implemented. The two locations are rural and are impacted by migration. The general topics that will be covered in the campaign will include family planning, sexually transmitted infections (STIs), condom use, teenage pregnancy, HIV; regular migration pathways; and sexual and gender-based violence (SGBV).

3.1 Objective of the assignment:

- a) Undertake a multi-media campaign to promote the visibility of IOM's migration and health specifically SRHR initiatives in South Africa in order to promote public awareness and goodwill of IOM.
- b) To implement thought-provoking SRHR and safe migration media campaigns to promote positive behaviour change targeting young vulnerable people (10-29 years), sex workers in migration impacted communities (migrants included). It is expected that the campaign will increase the understanding of migration, the linkage between migration and health in order to promote safe migration and positive sexual and reproductive choices such as consistent condom use, pregnancy at the right time.
- c) Strengthen the capacity of the young people the SRHR HIV KNB project works with to utilize relevant social media to advocate for their SRH needs and rights.
- d) Strengthen the IOM's implementing partner and the young people the organization works with to utilize relevant social media to advocate for their SRH needs and rights.

3.2 Role of the service provider:

To meet the above objectives, it is expected that the service provider will:

- a. Work with the IOM project team to clearly identify the specific behaviours that will be targeted and the target audience (including several audience segments).
- b. Develop, test and refine the messages in accordance to the feedback provided during the testing phase so as to ensure messages developed are fit for purpose.
- c. It is expected that the service provider will utilise various approaches to disseminate information including social media platforms such as Facebook, twitter, Instagram, and youtube.
- d. Document stories of change from the community brought about by the project's intervention and disseminate them to celebrate project results for learning and advocacy.
- e. Engage with different media houses such as community media to promote IOM's visibility.
- f. Improve existing IEC including translating it to relevant languages where necessary.
- g. Provide monthly monitoring report about the campaigns. This will include being able to provide evidence of impact of the communication campaign.
- h. Strengthen the capacity of the implementing partner to use social media to show case work done.

3.3 Expected Outcomes

The multimedia communication campaign is expected to increase correct information about sexual and reproductive health and safe migration so that the targeted audience are able to make the right choices which will lead to positive health outcomes. In addition to this, the campaign will increase the visibility of IOM's migration and health work in South Africa.

We are looking for a sharp artistic partner that can walk with us in this journey to craft creative messages and find innovative ways of delivering them to multiple audiences some of whom are often forgotten. Considering that the project is implemented in rural areas (Nkomazi and Bushbuckridge) the desired service provider should demonstrate experience of working with rural communities, ability to monitor impact as well as working with other stakeholders in government, civil societies, and gatekeepers such as traditional leaders.

4 Application process

This application should include:

- i. A profile of the organization with examples of multi-media campaigns that the organization has undertaken. The organization should demonstrate capacity and experience in social behavior change.
- ii. A brief concept note entailing the consultant's capability to undertake the assignment, proposed budget and timelines. Only shortlisted consultants will be contacted and notified.
